Family Caregiver Support Services

Illinois Department on Aging Director John K. Holton, PhD., commended family caregivers for making an extra effort to provide special attention and assistance to their loved ones.

Signs that indicate older adults may need assistance include: decreased mobility, forgetfulness; neglected personal hygiene; change in appetite, unopened prescriptions; lack of home maintenance; unopened mail and mishandling of finances. Older adults would have difficulty remaining in their homes and community without the support of their relatives and caregivers.

IdOA offers information, assistance, training, counseling and respite care through the Family Caregiver Support Program.

For more information, call (888) 206-1327.

Alcohol Campaign Targets Minors

The State of Illinois is coordinating a statewide educational effort, entitled Sticker Shock Month

"April is when we see the emergence of events typically associated with underage drinking, such as prom and graduation parties," says Executive Director Gloria L. Matere of the Illinois Liquor Control Commission.

"We recognize there is no easy fix to the underage drinking problem, and we are asking parents to get involved and take responsibility for their children's actions."
