Greetings Volunteers!

Please let everyone know. Michigan wants to take votes away from Trump.

Michigan denied former 2024 independent presidential candidate Robert F. Kennedy Jr.'s request for his name to be removed from the state's ballot despite the suspension of his campaign.

Independent candidate Robert F. Kennedy Jr. said during a speech on Friday that he will suspend his campaign and endorse former President Donald Trump.

Information for Veterans

I work for an advocacy center called Veterans Guide. Our mission is to assist veterans with the array of issues they may face, including obtaining proper disability compensation, financial assistance, information on the GI bill, and more. We have created some helpful guides and will continuously be adding more. Recently we also made a calculator that helps veterans calculate how much their VA rating should be, especially when it comes to combining ratings and complicated VA math. Check it out:

VA Disability Calculator - veteransguide.org/va-disability-calculator/

VA Disability Appeals - veteransguide.org/va-disability/appeals/

What's important to us is providing resources and help for veterans and their families. We want to make sure vets have all the resources necessary to ensure they struggle with their health and finances as little as possible.

Thank you

Luke

SPOILED

This is How You Create a Saturated City

- With the Sterling Heights administration pushing for a millage disguised as promoting tree canopies, preservation of our remaining green space, and a more inviting city. Their soldiers in the planning commission are wheeling and dealing every piece of remaining land to construction. Before you know it, the city of Sterling Heights will be like Ferndale or Royal Oak where there is no more empty land to call open. For you Sterling Heights residents, please consider attending the upcoming meeting. Just like our nearing Presidential election, your voice is more powerful than you think. We do not need another millage just like we do not need more

Vote Counting Board (AVCB) located at the TCF Center during the 2020 general election, I had one singular mission – monitor the tallying of the votes. Of course, in order to effectively execute that mission, I needed to know how votes were supposed to be tallied in the City of Detroit. As it turns out, this process was not only a mystery to me, it was also a mystery to the election officials tasked with overseeing the election.

Why Do We Need Parents Anyhow.

“Tommy, be careful when crossing the street”. “Lisa, don’t play with that, you might get hurt”; simple examples of a parent’s love and role in the raising and protection of their children. Fast forward, The Democratic administration with perseverance, continues to whittle away at any remaining right that a parent has to guide and protect his/her children. Take minors seeking abortion without parental consent for instant. Whitmer and her minions are calling on outside assistance to further this degradation of parental rights. They are partnering with the American Civil Liberties Union and the Michigan Organization on Adolescent Sexual Health (MOASH) to call on removal of parental consent. Under the blanket called “In Harm’s Way”, the MOASH is cloaking its true ambitions by falsely promoting the amplification of the youth voice; go figure. Do parents really stifle a young persons communication? A parents role can be daunting in some cases and yet, even greater in reward as they see their young ones blossom to the next stages in life. The problem we have today is that parental oversight and engagement of their children is lacking; the reasons are many. Question. At what price does a parent find reasonable to sacrifice that time your young one needs from you. Don’t worry, the state is ready to step in. With recent changes to our constitution, the state will continually whittle away at what is left. Pray as you may that this all will stop and go away but, without your action, the devil will seek and find a way. Vote, not for yourself but, your children.

Michigan mom seeks just compensation in home foreclosure

Manistee County seized and sold home, then kept $102,636 more than owed

<https://www.michigancapitolconfidential.com/news/michigan-mom-seeks-just-compensation-in-home-foreclosure>

Four years after the Michigan Supreme Court unanimously ruled that counties can't keep excess profits from tax foreclosures, one Michigan mom is fighting for $102,636 in home equity seized by Manistee County.

Chelsea Koetter, a single mother of two boys, fell behind on her property taxes in 2018 and underpaid what she owed in 2021. The tax bill grew to $3,863 with interest, penalties, and fees. Koetter later attempted to pay the overdue bill but missed the deadline by eight days. Manistee County foreclosed on the home. The county auctioned Koetter's home for $106,500 in August 2021, keeping all the profit — $102,636 more than Koetter owed in taxes, penalties, interest, and fees.

Feeling sorry for her will not solve her situation. Remember, from any given moment to any given reason, this could happen to you and your family. Do not say your vote doesn't count. Do not say it doesn't matter what folks think about my thoughts. Your voice is powerful and if you do not seek the courage to speak it, the return on your lack of willingness will be beyond disappointing.

Remembering "Axe My Tax"

For those that can recall Karla Wagner's ballot effort to address our taxes, some felt the intention went too far but, one item in the ballot did address home foreclosures. The action where your government (state or local) will seize your home due to unpaid taxes, sell it to recover taxes owed, then keep the excess profits. True, taxes do pay for the services that we NEED. Taxes should not be used for wants; of course that is how votes are bought. No matter, your state and local government does not care and in light that the cost of living has become more challenging, it will not take much to fall under water with your tax obligations. Do we need tax administration reform;

Stop The Fraud Against Our Residents

For some, technology has been a God send. From convenience at your finger-tips to mounds, upon mounds of information for all. But there is a dark side to this technological crutch of society; Predators! They prowl the internet maze seeking the weak and vulnerable and strike without concern or remorse. Our elderly are highly targeted as well as, even younger family folks. Now, with young ones returning to school, another opportunity arises. Children and even parents will post of the first day(s) back to school on social media. Unbeknownst to them the predators lurk about seeking any information they can find, using that information to stalk and even start an online relationship in hopes of attracting the young child to go beyond the safe zone of caution; Danger! Danger! In life the dark side has learned to cloak itself under a silver lining; only to strike when it is too late.

WE SURE DO. Take a look at the following excerpt from Michigan Cap Con:

How Much Does the Socialist Left Really Care.

With Whitmer touting record billions into our public-school systems and undoubtingly, Harris likely to carry the Obama/Biden Title IX torch into the future if elected. Is there any evidence uncovering these efforts as simply being socialist gerrymandering to the parents. There are many, too many to list here. But here is another tidbit to tickle your public-school dismay. The Detroiters for Tax Justice uncovered that our wonderful Governor Whitmer and the DDA re-directed more than billion dollars intended for Detroit schools and city services to real estate projects; none that have made living in Detroit any cheaper. As a matter of fact, it is continually getting harder to afford a place to live in Detroit. Interestingly, this happened in the very fortress that has supported Democrats for decades; Detroit. With school performance levels at all time lows and many children struggling to read and comprehend at third grade levels, the Democratic pundits still believe more money is needed to right the wrongs they, the Demorats and their Union soldiers created in the first place.
