Trustee & Agent Information

Prior to our first planning session, please begin thinking about the trusted individuals in your life that you may want to name as your Successor Trustee(s), Agent(s) in your Durable Power(s) of Attorney and Healthcare Directive(s), and Guardians of your minor children (if applicable).

You don't have to name the same people for each role, and in some situations you shouldn't. You may have someone in your life who is savvy with finances but too emotional to handle difficult medical decisions. Or you may have someone in your life from the healthcare field that isn't the best fit to manage your assets. These should be individuals who you are comfortable sharing personal information with, including your wishes regarding your healthcare. Once we have met to review this, you should plan to discuss this with each individual to make sure they are comfortable with this responsibility.
