TODAY'S PROGRAM:

Central Counties Services Johnnie Wardell

May 11, 2022

Central Counties Services has served over 70,000 people with mental disabilities since 1967. The Center's services have fluctuated over time depending funding available. The changing state and federal rules that accompany the Center's funding have also played a role in determining what services are provided for specified populations in the Center's five-county catchment area. The activities at the Center tell a story of how the Center was started and continues to meet the complex challenges of the times. Much has been accomplished toward moving the Center from its early caretaker role to being a high quality sophisticated treatment agency that proudly serves the citizens in Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, and Milam counties.

Persons with mental illness or intellectual and developmental disabilities need support in their road to recovery and enhancement of their lives in the community. As you search for direction in choosing the best treatment and support, we are here to partner with you.

At Central Counties Services, we believe that an active partnership with you and your family member is the key to putting the right supports in place for you to be as independent as possible.
