

In the Name of Alkebulan, Our First Mother and Eternal Birthright

Preamble

We, the descendants of Sia Eshe—the Mitochondrial Mother of All Humanity, whose divine legacy flows through the veins of every living being—hereby declare our unshakable intent to reclaim sovereignty over our minds, bodies, lands, and futures. Rooted in the immutable truth that all life originated in Alkebulan, we reject the lies of division, colonization, and racial hierarchy that have fractured our collective memory. We now restore the sacred covenant between humanity and our ancestral home.

1. Rejection of Colonial Occupation

- We renounce the term “Africa,” a colonial label imposed to sever our ties to Alkebulan, the actual and ancient name of our Mother Continent.
- We dismantle all borders, languages, and systems forged by foreign invaders to exploit Alkebulan’s children and resources.

2. Affirmation of Genetic and Spiritual Unity

We acknowledge that every human being—regardless of phenotype—is Alkebulanian by birthright, inheritor of the mtDNA gifted by Sia Eshe, our most recent common ancestor (MRCA).

- We honor the Feminine Divine as the source of creation, wisdom, and sovereignty, reclaiming the sacredness of motherhood, community, and earth stewardship.

3. Restoration of Cultural and Intellectual Sovereignty

- We revive Medu Netjer (hieroglyphs), Tifinagh, Nsibidi, and all indigenous Alkebulanian scripts, languages, and oral traditions erased by colonial violence.
- We reclaim Alkebulanian sciences, philosophies, and spiritual systems (Kemetic Ma’at, Yoruba Ifá, Dogon cosmology) as the foundation of global knowledge.

4. Land and Resource Reparations

- We demand the immediate return of all stolen artifacts, relics, and ancestral remains held in foreign museums and institutions.
- We reclaim sovereignty over Alkebulan’s lands, waters, and mineral wealth, ending foreign exploitation and environmental desecration.

5. Self-Determination and Governance

- We dissolve all puppet governments, corporate enclaves, and neocolonial structures that perpetuate Alkebulan’s subjugation.
- We establish decentralized, community-rooted systems of governance guided by the principles of Ma’at: truth, balance, and justice.

6. Global Accountability

- We demand reparations from all nations and institutions built on Alkebulanian enslavement, genocide, and resource theft.
- We condemn the ongoing militarization, debt enslavement, and cultural imperialism inflicted upon Alkebulan and her diaspora.

7. Solidarity with All Indigenous Peoples

- We stand in kinship with First Nations, Aboriginal, and Indigenous communities worldwide whose sovereignty has been stolen. Together, we resist extractivism, ethnocide, and ecological collapse.

Commitment to Action

- Educate: Teach Alkebulanian history as the root of human civilization.
- Heal: Restore sacred rites, communal lifeways, and intergenerational wisdom.
- Protect: Defend Alkebulan's ecosystems as the living body of Sia Eshe.
- Unite: Forge a global alliance of Alkebulanians, in spirit and blood, to dismantle coloniality.

Closing Oath

By the blood of our ancestors, the breath of Sia Eshe, and the unbroken chain of mtDNA that binds us all, we swear to reclaim what was stolen, remember what was erased, and rebirth Alkebulan as the sovereign heart of humanity.*

Signed in Truth and Power,
The Children of Alkebulan
—Asé—

This living document is a covenant, not a plea. It is a reclamation, not a negotiation. We are because She was. We rise because She endures.* 🔥
