THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM

This week we heard from the man, the myth, the legend: Drayton McLane Jr. He told us some words of wisdom gained through life experiences. Drayton is well known as a businessman, leader, and philanthropist. He has had a lasting impact on not only the Temple community, but Texas as a whole. Most well known for serving as the CEO of the McLane Company, one of the largest supply chain and logistics operations in the nation prior to it's sale to Walmart in 1990. He even owned the Houston Astros at one point! Currently Drayton continues to lead as a part of the McLane Group, involved with investments in technology, retail, and real estate. He currently serves as Chairman of the Board of Trustees at Baylor Scott & White Health. And continues to support education, faith-based initiatives, and community development in Temple and beyond.

Please keep our fellow Lions in your prayers: Cindy's father and the Schexnayider family, John Russell and family, John Rude and family, and the Gover family.

Hebrews 4:16

Let us then approach God's throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need.
