Yarck is a small historic township in the Upper Goulburn Valley, about 166 km north-east of Melbourne, located on the Maroondah Highway between Alexandra and Mansfield. Today it has a population of around 200 people. The area was traditionally occupied by the Taungurung people, part of the Kulin Nation, long before European settlement. European settlers arrived during the mid 1800s, attracted by the fertile grazing and farming land in the district. The Yarck Post Office opened in 1877, marking the establishment of a permanent community. Alex & Erica from the HWM-Museum -on the way to Melbourne - stopped at the town in mid-January 2026 and located some Davies-Shephard water meters.

The General Store Now and in the early 1920's

Commercial Store built 1881

A restored Building late 1800's

Installed at the General Store is a Davies Shephard 20mm PSM/V100 P.D. water meter.

Installed at the Commercial Store the Meter Cover pit was found and inside a Davies Shephard 20mm PSM/V100 rotary piston P.D. water meter.

The Town Hall building -a quick scan of the perimeter did not locate the water meter.

Below an old disused Store with the classic water storage tank out back which was the previous water supply prior to connection to a water main. The water meter could not be found.
